Trade contacts:

- Disputes Investment and Enforcement Mechanism – www.dfat.gov.au/trade/negotiations/wto_disputes.html or email wto.disputes@dfat.gov.au or write to WTO Trade Law Branch, DFAT
- TradeWatch – a free, online market access service for Australians doing business overseas – www.tradewatch.dfat.gov.au

The primary trade role of the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade (DFAT) is to improve access to overseas markets for Australia's goods and services exports. It does this through negotiations in the WTO and other bodies; lobbying other governments to reduce barriers to Australian exports; and facilitating trade and investment through regional groups such as APEC, and in individual countries. DFAT also provides information and data on the economies of different countries and the policies of their governments.
