Alumni of 2011 to 2016

Tracer Survey Outcomes Summary: United Republic of Tanzania

This country report details the responses of alumni from the United Republic of Tanzania to the Australia Awards Global Tracer Facility Tracer Survey carried out in 2018-19. The Tracer Survey was conducted between November 2018 and February 2019 and targeted alumni who completed their award between 2011 and 2016.

Alumni were asked a range of questions via an online survey, focussed on exploring the long-term outcomes of the Australia Awards. In total 3,768 alumni in this cohort from more than 123 different countries participated in the survey. A 26 per cent response rate of the target cohort was achieved globally. This report focuses on the response data of alumni from the United Republic of Tanzania.

For the United Republic of Tanzania, there were 228 alumni included in the target population. Responses were received from 45, a response rate of 20 per cent. Among these respondents, 27 were scholarship alumni and 18 were fellowship alumni.

The survey data provide a valuable quantitative insight into alumni use of knowledge and skills, development of networks and contribution to cooperation with Australia. The responses also offer rich examples from alumni of the types of contributions they are making, the way in which they are using their award, and the things that help and hinder them in reaching their potential.

The data detailed here are reported based on the four long-term outcomes of the Australia Awards as articulated in the Australia Awards Global Strategy: Investing in the next generation of global leaders for development 2016-2018 and the Australia Awards Global Monitoring and Evaluation Framework. In terms of responding to the long-term outcomes of the Australia Awards, the following summary offers findings based on the responses of alumni from the United Republic of Tanzania. Further outcomes are included in the infographic following this summary.

Outcome 1: Alumni are using their skills, knowledge and networks to contribute to sustainable development.

- Most alumni from the United Republic of Tanzania (98 per cent) indicated they have passed on their skills and knowledge to others in their country on return from their award.
- 98 per cent of alumni indicated they had introduced improved practices and innovations in their work on return from their award.

Outcome 2: Alumni are contributing to cooperation between Australia and partner countries.

- 71 per cent of alumni from the United Republic of Tanzania have maintained frequent contact with fellow alumni, while 48 per cent have frequent contact with friends in Australia and 55 per cent with Australian students/alumni.
- In terms of frequent contact with Australian organisations, 29 per cent of alumni have frequent contact with Australian institutions, 21 per cent of alumni have frequent contact with Australian businesses and 7 per cent with Australian Embassies, High Commissions or Consulates.

Outcome 3: Effective, mutually advantageous partnerships between institutions and businesses in Australia and partner countries.

- 60 per cent of alumni from the United Republic of Tanzania indicated having had a professional link with an Australian organisation at some time following award.
- These links were with Australian universities, the government sector, the private sector and non-government organisations.

Outcome 4: Alumni view Australia, Australians and Australian expertise positively.

- All alumni from the United Republic of Tanzania indicated their experience in Australia positively influenced their perception of Australia.
- All alumni have provided advice to people in the United Republic of Tanzania about pursuing opportunities in Australia.

The Tracer Survey represented the views of a range of alumni from the United Republic of Tanzania. Of those who responded, 33 per cent were women and 91 per cent came from an urban location. The largest age group represented were alumni 40 to 49 years. Among all alumni, 89 per cent were employed full-time. Of those alumni employed, 72 per cent indicated that they hold a formal leadership role.

In addition to this Outcomes Summary, this report includes an infographic as well as data tables including the detail of respondents from the United Republic of Tanzania to the Tracer Survey. The data tables correspond to each of the Australia Awards long-term outcomes and include benchmark data from the entire survey response population.

During the review of feasibility studies reports for PPP projects, I developed a guideline for evaluation of proposals and shared this with my staff members. The guidelines cover the materials received from Australia. Now, the guidelines are used in my organisation.

As one of the management team member I have contributed in the reformation of a new structure of our Agency to increase its effectiveness. I have introduced a new motivation strategy to our staff that based on the performance. Initially we did not have a formal motivation strategy.

Through my work as a television presenter I have been airing programmes that are to eradicate gender based violence towards women and children.

I have established useful contacts with alumni who are Australians and we have shared some experiences in handling consulting engagements.
