2.1 About the Australia-Japan Foundation 2021 Grant Round opportunity

This grant opportunity was announced as part of the International Relations Grants Program.

The Australia-Japan Foundation seeks to advance Australia's engagement with Japan by supporting people-to-people linkages; amplifying and shifting perceptions of Australia in Japan to reflect contemporary Australia; and facilitating the promotion of the inventive, innovative capabilities that Australia brings to Australia-Japan collaborations across broad and ever sophisticated sectors. The Australia-Japan Foundation also seeks to bring to the fore, awareness of the ongoing vital importance of Australia and Japan on each other's foreign and trade policies by facilitating informed discussions.

The Australia-Japan Foundation 2021 Grant Round aims to continue this work in the face of the Novel Coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic. Proposals for this round must be consistent with government restrictions in response to COVID-19.

The objectives of the Australia-Japan Foundation (AJF) are:

1. to increase awareness and understanding in Japan of shared interests with Australia;
2. to increase awareness and understanding in Australia of the importance of Japan to Australia as an economic and strategic partner; and
3. to increase recognition in Japan of Australian excellence and expertise.

(AJF Orders in Council, 30 November 2006)

To achieve its objectives, the AJF will prioritise high quality programs particularly, but not exclusively, across any one of the three cross-cutting themes: youth; gender, diversity and inclusion; and innovation.

Effective 'public diplomacy' plans are an essential element of projects to maximise the potential of projects to increase mutual understanding and goodwill between the two countries. Public diplomacy means that projects have the capacity to reach out to the public and/or decision-makers in such a way that strengthens Australia's influence and reputation in the bilateral relationship. Good public diplomacy should generate positive and effective media coverage and commentary on the Australia-Japan relationship, and promote a contemporary and positive image of Australia, and support the Australian Government's international policy goals.

Good public diplomacy should also open doors to new areas and to new and sustainable networks between individuals and institutions in the bilateral relationship and enable partnerships or collaborative activities to emerge or existing ones to deepen.

Projects must demonstrate collaboration between Japanese and Australian partners, including through financial and other (e.g. in-kind) contributions.

Priority Areas (in alphabetical order)

Communication, Information and Advocacy: Projects will promote an accurate and positive image of Australia in Japan, highlight the enduring nature of the bilateral relationship and increase public understanding of the importance of the Australia-Japan relationship in both countries.

Economic Diplomacy and Geopolitics: Projects will facilitate informed discussion among policy-makers, business groups and academic opinion leaders on the importance and potential of the Australia-Japan business, economic and geopolitical relationships to each country. Projects will focus on the following areas:

- Promoting closer economic relations arising from the opportunities of trade agreements and their built-in agendas;
- Promoting emerging issues and trends in Australia's trade and investment relationship with Japan;
- Promoting Australian corporate reform capabilities and international business expertise in areas of interest to Japan (for example in project management and private-public partnerships);
- Promoting understanding and public awareness of Australia and Japan's shared contribution to promoting peace and stability in the region and globally; and Australia and Japan's commitment to rules and norms that promote stability, peace and prosperity.

Education and Australian studies: Projects will focus on two areas:

- The promotion of Australia's strong education and training credentials, for example, through alumni engagement and opportunities to provide in-country exposure to Australian education and training capabilities.
- Support for the teaching of Australian studies in Japan and the maintenance and expansion of Japanese academic interest and expertise on Australia.

Proposals for study tours and academic research projects, particularly those that lack a strong communications component, are generally not competitive.

Scientific innovation: Projects will focus on three areas:

- Exchanges between potential Australian and Japanese individual and institutional collaborators and partners in sectors that promote Australian excellence such as in innovation, science, health and technology;
- The promotion of Australian expertise in scientific research, technology and innovation, for example, through alumni engagement and public outreach activities. Projects that engage scientific and technological areas of cooperation between Australia and Japan - but are not wholly or predominantly scientific research - will be eligible for funding.

- Promotion of Australian excellence in sports medicine and other sports-related scientific innovation through exchanges.

Society, Culture and Sport: Projects under this priority will encourage new social and cultural exchange and cooperation initiatives between Australian and Japanese professional, community and other institutions including sport, local government, youth, community and not-for profit groups which highlight Australian excellence and expertise in Japan and enhances mutual understanding, friendship and respect. Projects will promote Australia as a contemporary, creative, successful, diverse and tolerant nation; and an attractive place to work, study, visit and live. Projects will also promote Japan as a highly complementary partner with shared values and interests.

Arts/culture projects would preferably be a collaboration between Australian and Japanese partners and demonstrate innovative ideas and/or approaches conceptually or in its delivery. The individual or organisation must have a proven record of quality and excellence.

Past successful applications from larger cultural festivals were able to demonstrate how their project:

- promoted the Australia-Japan relationship where it was not just an incidental part of a much broader international festival promotion
 - and where AJF funding of the bilateral aspect of the program could be clearly acknowledged to AJF;
- had prospect for promoting the bilateral relationship widely particularly through media; and
- potentially could act as a catalyst for important, new relationships between Australian and Japanese collaborators.

Sports-related projects should promote Australian technical expertise. Past successful sports-related projects looked at building long-term connections, rather than just one-off exchanges.

8. The grant selection process

8.1 Assessment of grant applications

We first review your application against the eligibility criteria.

If eligible, we will then assess your application against the assessment criteria (see Section 6) and against other applications. We consider your application on its merits, based on:

- how well it meets the criteria
- how it compares to other applications

- whether it provides value with relevant money.⁵

When assessing the extent to which the application represents value with relevant money, we will have regard to:

- the overall objective/s to be achieved in providing the grant
- the relative value of the grant sought
- extent to which the geographic location of the application matches identified priorities
- the extent to which the evidence in the application demonstrates that it will contribute to meeting the outcomes/objectives.
- how the grant activities will target groups or individuals.

8.2 Who will assess applications?

An assessment committee will assess each application on its merit and compare it to other eligible applications before recommending which grant applications should be awarded a grant. The assessment committee will be made up of the Australia-Japan Foundation Board and Secretariat. Board members are listed on the Australia-Japan Foundation section of the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade website. Board members are treated as Commonwealth officials due to their role in the assessment process in accordance with Part 1, section 2.9 of the CGRGs and the Public Governance, Performance and Accountability Act 2013.

The assessment committee may seek additional information about you or your application. They may do this from within the Commonwealth, even if the sources are not nominated by you as referees. The assessment committee may also consider information about you or your application that is available through the normal course of business.

The assessment committee recommends to the Program Delegate which applications to approve for a grant.

8.3 Who will approve grants?

The First Assistant Secretary, North and South Asia Division or his/her delegate decides which grants to approve taking into account the recommendations of the assessment committee and the availability of grant funds for the purposes of the grant program.

The Program Delegate's decision is final in all matters, including:

- the approval of the grant
- the grant funding amount to be awarded.

There is no appeal mechanism for decisions to approve or not approve a grant.

9. Notification of application outcomes

We will advise you of the outcome of your application in writing. If you are successful, we will advise you of any specific conditions attached to the grant.

You can submit a new application for the same grant (or a similar grant) in any future grant opportunities under the program. You should include new or more information to address any weaknesses that may have prevented your previous application from being successful.

⁵ See glossary for an explanation of 'value with money'.

9.1 Feedback on your application

If you are unsuccessful, you may ask for feedback within one month of being advised of the outcome. We will give written feedback within one month of your request.

10. Successful grant applications

10.1 The grant agreement

You must enter into a legally binding grant agreement with the Commonwealth represented by the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade. We use the Letter of Agreement in this program.

Each agreement has general terms and conditions that cannot be changed. Sample grant agreements are available on GrantConnect.

We must execute a grant agreement with you before we can make any payments. You must not start any Australia-Japan Foundation 2021 Round activities until a grant agreement is executed.

Your grant agreement may have specific conditions determined by the assessment process or other considerations made by the Program Delegate. We will identify these in the agreement.

You will be required to:

- complete a brief communications outline within two weeks of accepting the grant offer
- provide a final report, including financial acquittal, using the online template within 60 days of project completion
- for multi-year grants, complete interim reports once a year using the online template, and
- where conference or meeting participation of a principal speaker is funded, a copy of the paper presented by the participant in addition to the report.

You will be responsible for:

- meeting the terms and conditions of the grant agreement and managing and promoting the activity efficiently and effectively
- complying with record keeping, reporting and acquittal requirements as set out in the grant agreement
- all administrative arrangement associated with your project including visa and travel arrangements, visa charges, airport taxes, ground transport, travel and health insurance for project participant's medical and hospital insurance cover both overseas and in Australia for visitors not covered by Medicare (including evacuation and death cover), and necessary insurance for equipment and accommodation costs and arrangements
- other insurances, including workers' compensation, as required by law, and professional indemnity, public health and liability insurance, as required by the project, and
- complying with all applicable domestic and international laws.

The Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade will negotiate agreements with successful applicants by August 2021. We will work with successful applicants to confirm a timeframe for activities, including provision of funding. If there are unreasonable delays in finalising a grant agreement, the grant offer may be withdrawn and the grant may be awarded to a different applicant.

Where a grantee fails to meet the obligations of the grant agreement, the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade may withhold or suspend the funding to the grantee; and/or require the grantee to repay all or part of the grant. No compensation is payable by the Department for termination in these circumstances.

You should not make financial commitments until a grant agreement has been executed by the Commonwealth.

The Commonwealth may recover grant funds if there is a breach of the grant agreement.

10.2 How we pay the grant

The grant agreement will state the:

- maximum grant amount to be paid.

We will not exceed the maximum grant amount under any circumstances. If you incur extra costs, you must meet them yourself.

We will pay 100 per cent of the grant on execution of the grant agreement and on receipt of a valid invoice. You will be required to report how you spent the grant funds at the completion of the grant activity.

For multi-year grants, we will make an initial payment on execution of the grant agreement. We will make subsequent payments according to an agreed schedule set out in the grant agreement. Payments are subject to satisfactory progress on the grant activity based on your interim reports and on receipt of a valid invoice.

All grants are awarded in Australian dollars. However, if you are based in Japan, the payment will be made in Japanese yen up to the equivalent value in Australian dollars. You should allow for the exchange fees in your project budget. 12. How we monitor your grant activity

12.1 Keeping us informed

You should let us know if anything is likely to affect your grant activity or organisation.

We need to know of any key changes to your organisation or its business activities, particularly if they affect your ability to complete your grant, carry on business and pay debts due.

You must also inform us of any changes to your:

- name
- addresses
- nominated contact details
- bank account details.

If you become aware of a breach of terms and conditions under the grant agreement, you must contact us immediately.

You must notify us of events relating to your grant and provide an opportunity for the Minister or their representative to attend.

12.2 Reporting

You must submit reports in line with the grant agreement. We will remind you of your reporting obligations before a report is due. We will expect you to report on:

- progress against agreed grant activity milestones and outcomes, including progress against your communications plan
- contributions of participants directly related to the project
- expenditure of the grant.

The amount of detail you provide in your reports should be relative to the size, complexity and grant amount.

We will monitor progress by assessing reports you submit and may conduct site visits or request records to confirm details of your reports if necessary. Occasionally we may need to re-examine claims, seek further information or request an independent audit of claims and payments.

Progress reports (for multi-year grants)

Progress reports must:

- include evidence of your progress towards completion of agreed activities and outcomes
- show the total eligible expenditure incurred to date
- be submitted by the report due date (you can submit reports ahead of time if you have completed relevant activities).

We will only make subsequent grant payments when we receive satisfactory progress reports.

You must discuss any reporting delays with us as soon as you become aware of them.

We may ask you for ad-hoc reports on your grant. This may be to provide an update on progress, or any significant delays or difficulties in completing the grant activity.

Final report (for all grants)

When you complete the grant activity, you must submit a final report.

Final reports must:

We recognise that unexpected events may affect your progress. In these circumstances, you can request a variation to your grant agreement. You can request a variation by sending an email to the AJF Secretariat ajf.australia@dfat.gov.au and including the following information:

- changing project milestones consistent with the original intent of the project
- extending the timeframe for completing the project for a reasonable period of time
- changing the allocations across budget items.

If you want to propose changes to the grant agreement, you must put them in writing before the grant agreement end date. Contact the Australia-Japan Foundation Secretariat for further information. We will not consider changes after the grant agreement end date.

You should not assume that a variation request will be successful. We will consider your request based on provisions in the grant agreement and on factors such as:

- how it affects the project outcome
- consistency with the program policy objective and any relevant policies of the department
- changes to the timing of grant payments, and
- availability of program funds.
