In 1919 Allied troops were effectively stranded in the UK post WWI with a lack of suitable vessels to take them home. It was a difficult wait and not all were disciplined; in some instances troops mutinied and men were shot. The totality of often war damaged men were seen as a potential societal threat and in order to keep occupied, a series of sporting challenges were organised. This included, arguably, the world's first rugby world cup - for a prize ultimately presented by King George V to New Zealand.

Henley Royal Regatta in the UK is the world's finest rowing regatta since 1839. In 1919, it was deemed too early to race again but in its place, Leander Club, organised a military regatta called The Royal Henley Peace Regatta. This featured a VIII competition between Allied forces with crews from New Zealand, Australia, Canada, UK, France and the US, racing for another cup given by King George V, imaginatively called The King's Cup.

One hundred years on a re race involved mixed gender military crews for the original nations plus Netherlands and Germany in front of 100,000 spectators. You can see more detail on the event here: <https://www.kingscup.org> essentially NZDF, rowing and our Allies.

The objectives of the event in were to:

Honour the past
 Bond former foes, now firm allies
 Celebrate women in defence
 Forge the future

Supported by your Chief of Defence, your nation sent a mixed gender military crew to compete for prizes that included hugely significant contributions from eight nations/ Heads of State: original brass from President Washington's 1797 battleship, the USS Constitution; four French gallantry awards, the Croix de Guerre, awarded to French soldiers who died fighting alongside Allied troops, one from each year of WWI; a gift of precious metal from HM The Queen etc. All were melted down and incorporated into the prizes made of silver, diamond and gold.

On August 3rd at Government House Wellington, Governor-General Her Excellency Dame Cindy Kiro GNZM QSO DStJ is to be presented with a silver gold and diamond dagger that celebrates New Zealand's participation. This and medals presented to the NZDF crew contain precious metals from your nation and Head of State. Chief of Defence Air Marshal Kevin Short AM and Vice Chief of Defence AVM Tony Davies will be present.

We would welcome your presence and a 'save the date' will follow shortly. Government House will issue the invitations by email.

Attention: [REDACTED]

Dear [REDACTED]

Thank you for attending the King's Cup presentation with the Governor General of New Zealand.

s 47F(1) has asked me to send the photos below.

We are very conscious of the delay caused by COVID and then the illness and untimely death of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth. However, we were delighted to honour the NZDF crews of both 1919 and 2019 as we have done with the Australian Defence Force crew. Their respective contribution to building the peace, sporting excellence, bonding allies and celebrating women in defence is worthy of recognition.

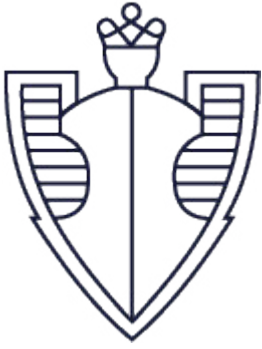

We will also acknowledge the Australian military leadership in due course, as we have done with New Zealand Chief of Defence, the US Joint Chiefs of Staff, etc.

Then there is the presentation of the Australian dagger crafted by the Royal jewellers - which contains the gifts of precious metals from each nation.

Those gifts, melted into the prizes, are hugely symbolic and we have undertaken to report back to the nations that gifted them, on how they have been used and to whom they have been presented. It is quite a story.

Kind regards,

no need to contact s 22(1)(a)(ii) re [REDACTED] and Linda Reynolds as they both received and have responded separately.

I was advised by the ADF that the [REDACTED] was attending on Sunday separately from my arrangements and so extended the Leander invitation to him also - if that is the case do respond directly, if not, no further action.

Looking forward to seeing [REDACTED] at breakfast tomorrow.

I haven't heard from s 22(1)(a) directly but [REDACTED] tells me to expect you on Saturday morning 08.30 at Leander and then lunch and the Stewards Enclosure for the day - which is tremendous.

I also understand that you are attending on Sunday and as requested by the ADF I have this afternoon bought you a reserve car park, pass for your driver and police clearance to turn into Leander Way.

Traffic on Saturday will be busy even for a 08.30 arrival - expect significant delays. We won't know racing times until the evening before.

If you are not otherwise engaged on Sunday after Prize Giving, you are included in the invitation below from [REDACTED]

I would be grateful if you or s 22(1)(a) could respond to s 47F at manager@leander.co.uk

Leander Club is the finest rowing club in the world and the most successful single sports club on the planet as measured by our 124 Olympic medals: we are currently in our 201st year. It is quite separate from Henley Royal Regatta.

(For the avoidance of doubt we only count those medals won by our members when rowing for Leander - not those won by members who subsequently join.)

We have also invited all King's Cup crews to a separate reception and meal close by.

On Saturday no phones in the Stewards Enclosure make it difficult if you are a no show by the time we leave, the fall back is:

1. Badges are left at the Leander Club reception
2. these include reserved Grandstand seats so I will be in proximity at some point
3. head to S5 in Lions Meadow for lunch at the lunch break 12.20

Kind regards

Happy Sunday.

You know that your King's Cup Entry is safely received. My focus is now very much on the athletes and ensuring that they have an outstanding experience.

Following up on earlier conversations:

1. Updated indicative guest programme for 5th - 7th July with added clarity on uniforms and numbers below.

I am expecting four for my breakfast and lunch on both Friday ([REDACTED]) and Saturday ([REDACTED]), four in the reserve Grandstand each day.

On Sunday breakfast and the island I am expecting two with alternate arrangements for [REDACTED] f, as advised, you are prioritising [REDACTED] I will sort out an alternate lunch that day.

+1 is the invitation and most of the Brits will bring their wives only on the Sunday, changing out of uniform after Church and back into it before Prize Giving. Or not as you wish.

I am standing by on [REDACTED] +1 on Sunday.

Any food intolerances?

I will purchase two five day reserved car park pass plus drivers badges for the Boat Tent for your use and leave them with you next week.

2. Downloadable HRR visitors guide www.hrr.co.uk/sites/henleyregatta/files/HRR-Visitor-Guide-2019.pdf

3. [REDACTED] is a hopeful for the 'Women in Defence' event with the King's Cup Crews on July 2nd but everything is dependent on Parliamentary voting. Awaiting confirmation Sunday.

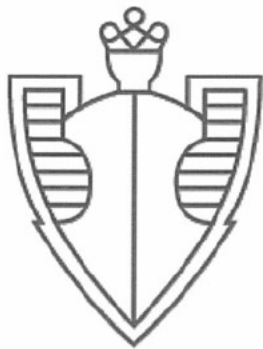

4. Given that the Cup is almost complete and will go straight to the Palace once it is next week, we have agreed with SoS not to try to resurrect the King Henry VIII cellar event.

4. VCDS is now looking to wrap a more formal programme around the event for visiting VIPs which is tremendous. There may be a similar Ministerial effort en route also. I will have no role in either so this is simply for your awareness.

5. Your crew have an additional ten invitations to my lunch on 2nd July with [REDACTED] and [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] Please let them know if you have other suggestions you may wish me to invite.

6. Remember that your crew can get additional Badges should you need them - or I can procure them for you.

Kind regards

PRIVATE & CONFIDENTIALNotes

Copies of the "Visitors Guide to Henley Royal Regatta" which includes most of the information below plus maps and diagrammes have been delivered to the Embassies/ High Commissions on 21st May and can be downloaded on www.hrr.co.uk/sites/henleyregatta/files/HRR-Visitor-Guide-2019.pdf

Henley Royal Regatta

The world's finest regatta is in its 180th year and remains an essential part of the English summer season. Equally beloved by both athletes and socialites, Henley Royal Regatta is a unique collision between an elite sporting event and an Edwardian garden party.

The King's Cup

The King's Cup is an international military rowing race at Henley Royal Regatta in July 2019 that honours our past, celebrates eight allies' fittest and finest and catalyses the opportunities for women in defence.

The King's Cup echoes the races at the 1919 Royal Henley Peace Regatta that helped the allies build the peace; in 2019 Germany and the Netherlands will join the original competitors from the USA, UK, Australia, New Zealand, France and Canada in a knock out race over three days at Henley Royal Regatta.

The King's Cup is the first time that military women and men will row in the same boat at an elite event in front of 100,000 spectators and live-streamed to a potential audience of three million in uniform.

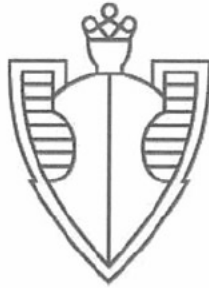

See www.kingscup.org.

Your crew

The King's Cup crews will all race in the time trial Qualifying Race on Friday 28th June.

The draw to decide which crews will race each other in the first round will be held on Saturday afternoon in the Henley Town Hall by the Chairman of the Regatta Sir Steve Redgrave.

PRIVATE & CONFIDENTIAL

Eight crews will race on Friday, four on Saturday, two on Sunday. The six previously knocked out crews will be asked to 'row over' the course and past their Chiefs in pairs on Sunday lunchtime. There will be no restrictions on pace or rate.

The timing of when The King's Cup crews will first race on Friday 5th July, will be announced at 20.00 on the Thursday night. First race of the Regatta that day will be at 08.30, the last race is 19.20 with lunch and tea breaks intervening.

The Saturday timetable will be announced at 20.00 on the Friday night. Racing will start 10.00 and finish 19.00 with lunch and tea breaks intervening.

The King's Cup final will be raced at 15.00 on the Sunday.

Prize Giving is in the Stewards Enclosure and is open to all, irrespective of badges worn.

The Stewards Enclosure

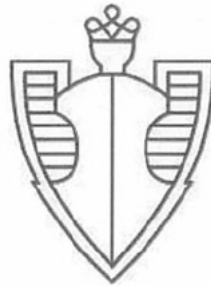

The Stewards Enclosure is a private enclosure for the enjoyment of members and their guests. It is the best place to watch the racing, entertain yourself and observe the fashion and behaviour of others from different planets. It has an unreserved and a reserved grandstand, numerous bars, dining and champagne tents and no children under the age of ten. It also has strict dress and behaviour requirements of which I would highlight two:

If you use a mobile phone to make or receive a call whilst in the Stewards Enclosure you may be asked to leave and your guest badge confiscated. Your 'host' will be subsequently contacted and asked why he or she failed to explain these rules to you.

There is a very strict dress code. Men are required to wear a jacket and tie and are not allowed to remove them unless formally advised otherwise in extreme heat. Women must wear a skirt or dress with a hemline that covers the knee; no trousers, split skirts etc. This is strictly enforced with a line of security tasked to identify naked knees. Failure to comply simply means no admittance. Women are also encouraged to wear hats. Please read the rules in the visitors guide or on the website for further detail and to avoid embarrassment on the day.

The display in the Prize Tent and Art Gallery is worth making time for.

PRIVATE & CONFIDENTIAL

The Boat Tents

The Boat Tent area is open to all badge holders so crews can be expected to be clapped on and off the water by supporters. This is a working area of the Regatta so situational awareness at all times is paramount.

Lion Meadow

Carpark spaces are allocated one per Member and are graduated by distance, the closer carpark, Lion Meadow, being the long term aim of many Members. Once the desired spot in Lion Meadow is acquired, its geographic coordinates will not change in future years, allowing former crew mates to find you irrespective of years spent away or their emotional state. Especially on the weekend, lunch in Lion Meadow may include staff and silver.

Leander Club

Leander Club is the most successful single sports club in the world as measured by its 125 Olympic medals and in 2018 celebrated its 200th year. It is entirely separate to Henley Royal Regatta.

Guests

Guests from each of the competing nations will be present each day.

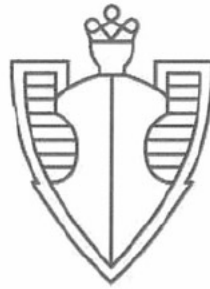

Dress

Uniform is requested for Finals Day, all other days Regatta wear. Ladies please note hemline imperatives.

Security

The Regatta and immediate surrounds are considered low risk and there is a security envelope in place. The Stewards Enclosure and Temple Island are considered sterile environments. Protected persons are not infrequent visitors to Regatta and where requested specific security arrangements can be put in place with the Regatta Security Co-ordinator and anti-terrorism Local Police Area contact. There will be a visible police presence in addition to Regatta security and on the Sunday this will be apparent on both the bridge and the church surrounds. If you are bringing a security team please liaise and I will put you in touch with the relevant points of contact.

PRIVATE & CONFIDENTIAL

Partners and ADCs on Temple Island

On the Sunday numbers are physically limited on Temple Island. Principals +1 is the principle.

Lunch

Lunch on Friday and Saturday will be in Lion Meadow. Please advise any dietary restrictions.

Getting there

Train from London is relatively easy and there are special trains to Regatta put on at the weekend. These are often very busy so get there early. Travel circa one hour, often one change (Twyford), and ten minutes' walk to Regatta from Henley station.

Driving can be subject to extreme delays of several hours so get there early. If coming from Abingdon, guests should not drive along the Fairmile but drive down Gravel Hill.

If driving from the M4, guests should turn left on Rose Lane after the Black Boy Inn and come in on the Wargrave Road. Spectators without carparking should consider parking at the Eyot Centre / Sea Scouts on the left hand side of the Wargrave Road before you reach White Hill.

Reserved car parking arrangements

Reserved parking for one vehicle for all five days plus Boat Tent badges for drivers will be sent to Embassies/ High Commissions prior.

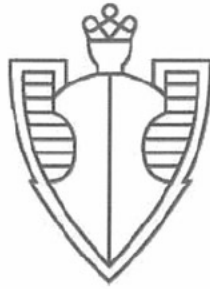

Badges

Stewards Enclosure and Leander Club badges will be provided. Reserved grandstand for Principals.

Breakfast

Breakfast will be served in Leander Club on Friday and Saturday at 08.15 and 08.30 respectively. This will allow for a Regatta briefing and all guests to 'badge up'

PRIVATE & CONFIDENTIAL

Umpires Launch

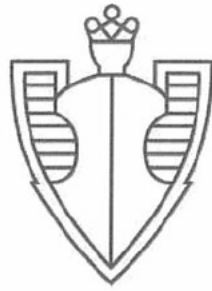

All races are escorted by an Umpires launch. Subject to the kind permission of each Umpire, places may be available on the launch for those with a close interest in the race. It is imperative that guests on the launch make no gesture or shout to the racing crews as to do so may result in that crew being disqualified.

Q3/4

Commemorative medals will be presented at national events in Q3/4 and for one lucky fast Nation an engraved sword.

Your crew

The King's Cup crews will all race in the time trial Qualifying Race on Friday 28th June.

The draw to decide which crews will race each other in the first round will be held on Saturday afternoon in the Henley Town Hall by the Chairman of the Regatta Sir Steve Redgrave.

PRIVATE & CONFIDENTIAL

Eight crews will race on Friday, four on Saturday, two on Sunday. The six previously knocked out crews will be asked to 'row over' the course and past their Chiefs in pairs on Sunday lunchtime. There will be no restrictions on pace or rate.

The timing of when The King's Cup crews will first race on Friday 5th July, will be announced at 20.00 on the Thursday night. First race of the Regatta that day will be at 08.30, the last race is 19.20 with lunch and tea breaks intervening.

The Saturday timetable will be announced at 20.00 on the Friday night. Racing will start 10.00 and finish 19.00 with lunch and tea breaks intervening.

The King's Cup final will be raced at 15.00 on the Sunday.

Prize Giving is in the Stewards Enclosure and is open to all, irrespective of badges worn.

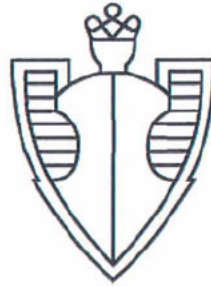

The Stewards Enclosure

The Stewards Enclosure is a private enclosure for the enjoyment of members and their guests. It is the best place to watch the racing, entertain yourself and observe the fashion and behaviour of others from different planets. It has an unreserved and a reserved grandstand, numerous bars, dining and champagne tents and no children under the age of ten. It also has strict dress and behaviour requirements of which I would highlight two:

If you use a mobile phone to make or receive a call whilst in the Stewards Enclosure you may be asked to leave and your guest badge confiscated. Your 'host' will be subsequently contacted and asked why he or she failed to explain these rules to you.

There is a very strict dress code. Men are required to wear a jacket and tie and are not allowed to remove them unless formally advised otherwise in extreme heat. Women must wear a skirt or dress with a hemline that covers the knee; no trousers, split skirts etc. This is strictly enforced with a line of security tasked to identify naked knees. Failure to comply simply means no admittance. Women are also encouraged to wear hats. Please read the rules in the visitors guide or on the website for further detail and to avoid embarrassment on the day.

The display in the Prize Tent and Art Gallery is worth making time for.

PRIVATE & CONFIDENTIALThe Boat Tents

The Boat Tent area is open to all badge holders so crews can be expected to be clapped on and off the water by supporters. This is a working area of the Regatta so situational awareness at all times is paramount.

Lion Meadow

Carpark spaces are allocated one per Member and are graduated by distance, the closer carpark, Lion Meadow, being the long term aim of many Members. Once the desired spot in Lion Meadow is acquired, its geographic coordinates will not change in future years, allowing former crew mates to find you irrespective of years spent away or their emotional state. Especially on the weekend, lunch in Lion Meadow may include staff and silver.

Leander Club

Leander Club is the most successful single sports club in the world as measured by its 125 Olympic medals and in 2018 celebrated its 200th year. It is entirely separate to Henley Royal Regatta.

Guests

Guests from each of the competing nations will be present each day.

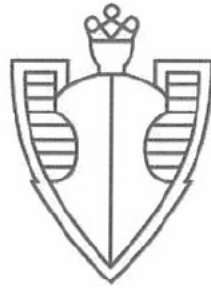

Dress

Uniform is requested for Finals Day, all other days Regatta wear. Ladies please note hemline imperatives.

Security

The Regatta and immediate surrounds are considered low risk and there is a security envelope in place. The Stewards Enclosure and Temple Island are considered sterile environments. Protected persons are not infrequent visitors to Regatta and where requested specific security arrangements can be put in place with the Regatta Security Co-ordinator and anti-terrorism Local Police Area contact. There will be a visible police presence in addition to Regatta security and on the Sunday this will be apparent on both the bridge and the church surrounds. If you are bringing a security team please liaise and I will put you in touch with the relevant points of contact.

PRIVATE & CONFIDENTIAL

Partners and ADCs on Temple Island

On the Sunday numbers are physically limited on Temple Island. Principals +1 is the principle.

Lunch

Lunch on Friday and Saturday will be in Lion Meadow. Please advise any dietary restrictions.

Getting there

Train from London is relatively easy and there are special trains to Regatta put on at the weekend. These are often very busy so get there early. Travel circa one hour, often one change (Twyford), and ten minutes' walk to Regatta from Henley station.

Driving can be subject to extreme delays of several hours so get there early. If coming from Abingdon, guests should not drive along the Fairmile but drive down Gravel Hill.

If driving from the M4, guests should turn left on Rose Lane after the Black Boy Inn and come in on the Wargrave Road. Spectators without carparking should consider parking at the Eyot Centre / Sea Scouts on the left hand side of the Wargrave Road before you reach White Hill.

Reserved car parking arrangements

Reserved parking for one vehicle for all five days plus Boat Tent badges for drivers will be sent to Embassies/ High Commissions prior.

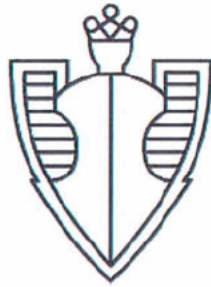

Badges

Stewards Enclosure and Leander Club badges will be provided. Reserved grandstand for Principals.

Breakfast

Breakfast will be served in Leander Club on Friday and Saturday at 08.15 and 08.30 respectively. This will allow for a Regatta briefing and all guests to 'badge up'

PRIVATE & CONFIDENTIAL

Umpires Launch

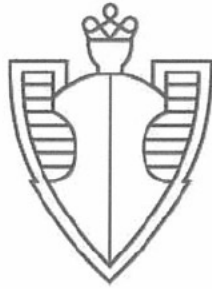

All races are escorted by an Umpires launch. Subject to the kind permission of each Umpire, places may be available on the launch for those with a close interest in the race. It is imperative that guests on the launch make no gesture or shout to the racing crews as to do so may result in that crew being disqualified.

Q3/4

Commemorative medals will be presented at national events in Q3/4 and for one lucky fast Nation an engraved sword.

Notes

Copies of the "Visitors Guide to Henley Royal Regatta" which includes most of the information below plus maps and diagrammes have been delivered to the Embassies/ High Commissions on 21st May and can be downloaded on www.hrr.co.uk/sites/henleyregatta/files/HRR-Visitor-Guide-2019.pdf

Henley Royal Regatta

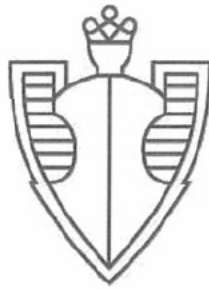

The world's finest regatta is in its 180th year and remains an essential part of the English summer season. Equally beloved by both athletes and socialites, Henley Royal Regatta is a unique collision between an elite sporting event and an Edwardian garden party.

The King's Cup

The King's Cup is an international military rowing race at Henley Royal Regatta in July 2019 that honours our past, celebrates eight allies' fittest and finest and catalyses the opportunities for women in defence.

The King's Cup echoes the races at the 1919 Royal Henley Peace Regatta that helped the allies build the peace; in 2019 Germany and the Netherlands will join the original competitors from the USA, UK, Australia, New Zealand, France and Canada in a knock out race over three days at Henley Royal Regatta.

PRIVATE & CONFIDENTIAL

The King's Cup is the first time that military women and men will row in the same boat at an elite event in front of 100,000 spectators and live-streamed to a potential audience of three million in uniform.

See www.kingscup.org.

As previously foreshadowed I am expecting the following as my personal guests from the High Commission and ADF and will send invitations next week from Henley.

London is flat out with POTUS, Prime Ministerial and D-Day 75 events so I expect no response to this email from them until next week when I will be based at Regatta HQ in Henley.

I am in conversation with the Minister who may be with us on Sunday with her partner.

You will be joined by DAs on Friday 5th July, Heads of Mission on Sunday 6th July and Chiefs or delegates on Sunday 7th July. There are a number of Sunday invitations who will be there all three days

I will facilitate other Australian visitors as requested but may not be able to host them as per the arrangements below.

Friday 5th July

Saturday 6th July

[REDACTED]

Sunday 7th July

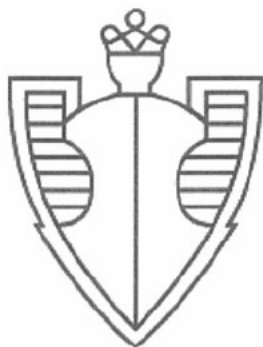

[REDACTED]

Indicative programme for each of the three days below.

The notes cover everything from dress code to security so please shout if there are further questions.

As some of the venues have a physical constraint some juggling of ADCs and for instance, reserve Grandstand seats may be in order. I will chat to [REDACTED] about that.

Kind regards

Subject: The King's Cup competitor badges presentation 21st May.

Dear [REDACTED]

As foreshadowed earlier, on the 21st May King's Cup Henley Royal Regatta competitor badges will be presented to each UK based representative at their Embassy/ High Commission.

It is one hundred years since these badges were last issued and they are individually numbered for each of the nine athletes racing in your crew for The King's Cup. Each badge is hard enamelled by hand in Birmingham by WO Lewis Badge makers, family owned and in its fifth generation since its inception in 1832.

Not only do the badges identify The King's Cup competitors, they also allow 'all area access' to the Regatta Enclosures, including the Stewards Enclosure, for all five days of the Regatta.

It is envisaged that the badges will be forwarded to your crew or kept for their arrival. They are not replaceable.

The presenting party is likely to include Stewards of Henley Royal Regatta. Chairman of the King's Cup Organising Committee and will be accompanied by winners of the Thomas Doggett's Cap and Badge. There will be a Regatta photographer for the formal record and likely media presence. The size of the receiving party is entirely at your discretion.

There are eight destinations in a crowded day with 20 minutes allowed time at each location for a quick introduction, presentation and photograph.

Ministry of Defence	arrival 09:30	departure 9:50
U.S. Embassy, London	arrival 10:11	departure 10:31
Embassy of Germany	arrival 10:54	departure 11:14
Embassy of the Netherlands	arrival 11:32	departure 11:52
Embassy of France	arrival 12:08	departure 12:28
New Zealand High Commission	arrival 12:47	departure 13:07
High Commission of Canada	arrival 14:50	departure 15:10
Australian High Commission	arrival 15:27	departure 15:47

It is completely understood that Heads of Mission have full diaries but it is not possible to co-ordinate eight of them so we are fixed on the timings. I apologise if this precludes attendance by those who may otherwise wish to be there. Arrival will be via car and there is some flex built into the travel times to allow for traffic but it is still tight.

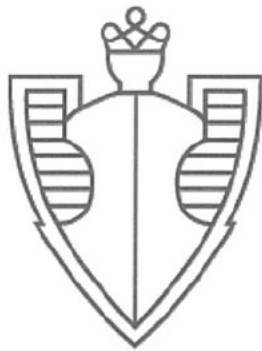

It may be helpful to identify a photo location prior to the visit and brief your own media teams and their 'in country' media contacts. Your own media release is encouraged. Please copy this to King's Cup Media Director [REDACTED] ([REDACTED]@kingscup.org).

For security clearance, names of the presenting party will be provided in advance.

A telephone POC for the day in the event of any unexpected issues would be helpful.

Happy Easter.

Kind regards

Dear [REDACTED]

Grateful your advice how you we should reply to the below.

With regard to various events mentioned we should note with the High Commissioner:

21 May – PD is hosting a high level event with [REDACTED] which the [REDACTED] is attending and speaking at. This from 6.30-8.30pm in the Exhibition Hall

23 May – [REDACTED] is hosting a reception at Stoke Lodge from 7.00pm-9.00pm

2 July – [REDACTED] is hosting a lunch here at Australia House from 12.30pm.

6 July – King's Cup is noted in the [REDACTED] diary.

Grateful your advice what the request "UK reference for interest in the Australian participation in The King's Cup" would involve for the High Commissioner?

Thanks in advance.

Subject: Australia and The King's Cup

His Excellency [REDACTED]

Your Excellency

The invitation for you to attend a briefing hosted by [REDACTED] at New Zealand House two weeks ago was very late notice, however, [REDACTED] was magnificent introducing the Australian crew for The King's Cup racing at Henley Royal Regatta in July.

The King's Cup honours our past, celebrates eight allies 'fittest and finest' and catalyses opportunities for women in defence. The Australian contribution from the Australian War Memorial Roll of Honour will be incorporated into the prizes and joins the contributions from Her Majesty the Queen, a souvenir from American President George Washington, the Canadian Parliament and four Croix de Guerre from the French.

Before the Australian crew arrives in June three events are planned in the UK and one in Australia.

- On the 7th of May in Canberra the Ambassadors and High Commissioners to Australia and their Defence Advisors are invited to a reception to listen to [REDACTED] talk about the empowering women in defence and the contribution of The King's Cup to this. This will be followed by examples of the UK and New Zealand's recent campaigns. As in March, the Defence Attachés from each of the competing nations will be asked to introduce the support for The King's Cup from their Chiefs, the name of their crew and the background to the contribution they have made to the prizes. The Australian King's Cup crew will present their campaign on the day and we have an Australian Olympic medalist and [REDACTED] also contributing. Election timing will inhibit political attendance but I have asked [REDACTED] if he might consider a video message of support.
- On the 21st May, at a time to be advised and accompanied by Thomas Doggett Cap and Badge winners and Stewards of Henley Royal Regatta, we would like to formally present the specially commissioned numbered enamel competitor badges at Australia House. We will be visiting seven Embassies and the Ministry of Defence that day and I will co-ordinate timings with your Defence Section and your media team. The Doggett's race dates from 1715 and the winners accompanying me will be dressed accordingly. It will make for a very colourful photo opportunity and it may be useful to have identified an appropriate location at the High Commission for this.
- At a date to be advised you are invited to join [REDACTED] in King Henry VIII's wine cellar to physically contribute to the manufacture of The King's Cup prizes. We await advice on the date but this may be 23rd May.
- On the morning of Tuesday 2nd July there is an opportunity for you to meet your crew at Henley Royal Regatta off the water and then watch them train alongside other national crews on the water. Crew launches are not permitted at Henley Royal Regatta or the weeks leading up to it but we arrange an exception for this event. I will liaise with your Defence Section on the timings as you will join other Heads of Mission and may wish to remain over lunchtime to hear the presentations to the massed crews.

UK and international media are likely be present at all the above.

On Saturday 6th July you are invited to lunch in Lion Meadow at Henley Royal Regatta. Henley Royal Regatta is a thoroughly enjoyable mix of Edwardian garden party and an international rowing event; it is a highlight of the English summer Season. For more detail please see www.kingscup.org.

There are strict and somewhat archaic dress and conduct rules which are important to research and will be clear on the invitations.

On Sunday 7th July, Chiefs of Defence and defence ministers from each of the nations with their partners, are invited to Finals Day at Henley Royal Regatta. Details of the Chairman's programme will follow but it will commence with the Regatta Church service at 09.30 and finish at Prize Giving at 17.00. All Chiefs will see their crews race on the day but only two crews will race in the final. Some elements of the day will see a separate partners programme most likely to be escorted by your DA.

Lastly, may I use you as a UK reference for interest in the Australian participation in The King's Cup? It is my experience that Australian supporters and the media get comfort from an Ambassador who speaks the same language particularly as our history and involvement with The King's Cup is unique.

I look forward to seeing you on at least one of the dates above and thank you for your support of both The King's Cup and the crew.

Kind regards

Hoping you have a successful event.

With kind regards
