Australian parliamentarian criticised for weighing in on Hong Kong protests

11. Australian Liberal party backbencher Tim Wilson, who visited Hong Kong in early October to observe the protests and posted on social media in support of the protesters, was featured in an article in the Global Times, a Chinese state-sponsored tabloid. The article drew on the Guardian's coverage of Wilson's visit and his 14 October ABC Q&A appearance to brand him as "hypocritical" for joining the Hong Kong protests while having previously criticised Australian protesters.
